PROPOSED CHANGES TO THE FAIRBANKS CURVE AREA

The I-4 Ultimate project will realign Interstate 4 near Fairbanks Avenue, commonly referred to as the “Fairbanks Curve.” Smoothing out the curve will increase sight distance for motorists and improve overall safety of this stretch of I-4. As a result of the realignment, several local roads in the area will be affected. The future configuration of this area illustrates five major changes to local roads:

- 1 Wellington Boulevard realigned to make room for I-4 expansion
- 2 Riddle Drive new connection under I-4 to Granada Drive
- 3 Roxbury Road to dead end at previous Wymore Road intersection
- 4 Wymore Road realigned under I-4 because of the new alignment of I-4
- 5 Realignment of Wymore Road and Salisbury Boulevard intersection
