The I-4 Ultimate project officially kicks off Sunday

The I-4 Ultimate is a road construction project that will take nearly seven years to complete.

Construction crews will rebuild 21 miles of Interstate 4, from Kirkman Road in Orange County, to State Road 434 in Seminole County.

The project also includes four express toll lanes, which will go through the middle of the Interstate. However, that part of I-4 Ultimate is still a ways down the road.

Drivers will not notice many changes now as only smaller progressions will be taking place. For example, as of this weekend, service patrols are being added to the stretch of I-4.

The stretch will be operated by a group called I-4 Mobility Partners. The group's job is to make sure everything runs smoothly, such as helping drivers in case they have a flat tire, run out of gas, or if their car breaks down. The service is completely free.

The I-4 Mobility Partners are just one of the ways officials are trying to ease the pain for drivers, who are going to have to pay close attention to all of the construction.

The I-4 Ultimate is scheduled to be complete in 2021.
