EASTBOUND I-4 EXIT TO PAR STREET AND FAIRBANKS AVENUE SHIFTING TO NEW LOCATION

THE EASTBOUND INTERSTATE 4 (I-4) EXIT TO PAR STREET (EXIT 86) AND FAIRBANKS AVENUE (EXIT 87) IS SHIFTING NEARLY 1.5 MILES SOONER

As soon as the morning of Tuesday, November 20, motorists on eastbound Interstate 4 (I-4) who wish to exit to either Par Street or Fairbanks Avenue will need to exit nearly 1.5 miles sooner as part of a new temporary traffic configuration. The shift combines Exits 85, 86 and 87 into one exit point. Motorists exiting to Princeton Street, Par Street or Fairbanks Avenue all must exit at a temporary ramp located just north of the Colonial Drive (State Road 50) interchange.

By shifting the exit ramps onto newly completed travel lanes, the eastbound I-4 auxiliary lane between Ivanhoe Boulevard and Princeton Street on the existing travel lanes will close. The permanent eastbound I-4 entrance ramp from Ivanhoe Boulevard also becomes operational as part of this shift. The eastbound I-4 entrance ramps from Colonial Drive/Garland Avenue and Ivanhoe Boulevard will be able to join the eastbound I-4 mainline near Par Street. The purpose of this temporary configuration is to create more room to construct permanent eastbound I-4 lanes and accommodate future traffic shifts.
